Johnson given bail extension

FOOTBALLER Adam Johnson's bail date has been extended by five weeks after he was arrested on suspicion of sexual activity with a girl under 16.

The suspended Sunderland and England star had been due to attend a Co Durham police station today, following his arrest a fortnight ago.

A Durham Police spokesman said the 27-year-old will report back on April 23, while inquiries continued.

The force also said it was reported a weapon was recovered from Johnson's mansion in the leafy hamlet of Castle Eden when he was arrested, and this has been examined.

A spokesman said it did not require a firearms certificate and no further police action would be taken.

He has 12 England caps and has also played for Middlesbrough and Manchester City.

Ferry death toll hits 61

THE death toll in a ferry accident off north-western Burma has risen to 61 after more bodies were recovered.

State television said the bodies of 14 males and 47 females had been found so far, and efforts were continuing to recover victims from the ship, as it lies 100ft underwater.

The Myanmar Ahlin newspaper said the number of known survivors is 169.

The double-decker ferry was carrying more than 225 passengers when it left the coastal town of Kyaukphyu last week and hit rough seas before capsizing.

CAMERON URGED TO PROTECT COVER-UP WITNESSES

FACING CALLS: David Cameron

DAVID Cameron is facing calls to guarantee that cops and spies who give evidence over an alleged VIP nonce ring in Westminster will NOT be prosecuted.

Scotland Yard is being probed over claims it covered up child sex abuse because of the involvement of big-name MPs and police officers.

The BBC's Newsnight later claimed that officers who arrested Liberal MP Sir Cyril Smith over sex parties with teen boys were warned to keep quiet about the investigation or face prosecution under the Official Secrets Act.

Tom Watson, the Labour MP who first spoke out in Parliament about a Westminster paedophile ring in October 2012, yesterday called on the Prime Minister to shield whistleblowers from that law.

He said: "It now clear that the Prime Minister must guarantee former police and intelligence officers who wish to help the Independent Police Complaints Commission with their inquiries will have the threat of the Official Secrets Act lifted."

"With this new inquiry it is also clear that the duty of all former police officers, intelligence officers and civil servants who have knowledge of a cover-up to come forward."

The call was backed by Simon Danczuk, the Labour MP for Rochdale – Smith's old seat.

Mr Danczuk said: "There has to be a more formal response from Government which says that former police officers who cooperate, give evidence and share their knowledge of what went on with regard to this alleged cover-up should not be disciplined in any way, with regard to the Official Secrets Act – or in any other way."

BBC BACKS JEZZA OVER 'PIKEY' ROW

BBC bosses yesterday ruled that Jeremy Clarkson was NOT being racist when he used the word "pikey" on Top Gear.

The presenter, whose future is in doubt following a "fracas" with a producer on the hit series, put up a placard with the words Pikey's Peak on the BBC2 series in February last year.

But the Trust's Editorial Standards Committee (ESC) concluded that the word had been used to mean "cheap", rather than as a term of racist or ethnic abuse.

The decision has met with outrage among members of the travelling community.

A spokesman for the Traveller Movement blasted: "We are horrified by the BBC's green lighting of the use of the word 'pikey' by the Top Gear presenters."

Some viewers said that the Pikey's Peak sign was "grossly offensive and racist" to the "gypsy traveller community", whose children are subjected to the word as a term of abuse in schools.

Programme makers said that the use of the sign was also a pun on the name of the US racecourse Pikes Peak.

The ESC said the word

By SHERNA NOAH
news@sundaysport.co.uk

"had evolved into common parlance among a number of people to mean 'chavvy' or 'cheap' and, depending on the context, viewers would not necessarily associate it with the gypsy and traveller communities."

The ESC added: "On this occasion, the use of the word 'pikey' would not have been seen as a careless stereotype about travellers and gypsies, but in keeping with the style of humour exhibited by the presenters towards Richard Hammond's perceived 'cheap' style."

But it did admit that the word "did have the potential to be deeply offensive to the gypsy and traveller communities".

The BBC has suspended Clarkson and postponed the remaining episodes of Top Gear as it investigates allegations that he punched producer Oisin Tymon during a row over a hotel meal.

Judges axed over porn at work inquiry

THREE judges have been removed and a fourth has resigned after an investigation into an allegation they viewed pornographic material on office PCs.

The disciplinary inquiry was revealed by the Judicial Conduct Investigations Office (JCIO), which found that there had been "inexcusable misuse" of their IT accounts.

A statement from the JCIO said: "Three judges: district judge Timothy Bowles, immigration judge Warren Grant, and deputy district judge and recorder Peter Bullock have been removed from judicial office following an investigation into an allegation that they viewed pornographic material on judicial IT equipment in their offices."

"The lord chancellor and lord chief justice were satisfied that the material did not include images of children or any other illegal content, but concluded that this was an inexcusable misuse of their judicial IT accounts and wholly unacceptable conduct for a judicial office-holder."

A fourth judge, Andrew Maw, was also found to have viewed similar inappropriate material and would also have been removed, had he not already resigned.

Pakistan lifts hanging ban to execute 12

PAKISTAN has executed 12 people in the country's largest day of executions after a nationwide ban on the death penalty was lifted.

The home minister for Punjab, Shuja Khanzada, said authorities at several jails in the province hanged 10 prisoners who had been sentenced to death in murder cases.

The superintendent of the main jail in the southern city of Karachi, Qazi Nazir, said prison staff had executed two people and handed their bodies to family members.

Late last year, Pakistan's prime minister lifted a moratorium on the death penalty specifically for terrorism-related cases after a Taliban attack on a school in Peshawar killed 150 people in December.

Last week the government completely lifted the death penalty ban for all cases.

NEW GUIDELINES ON DANGEROUS DOGS

COURTS will be encouraged to use their powers to ban irresponsible people from keeping dogs and order compensation to be paid to attack victims.

People who train dogs to be aggressive, use them as a weapon or to intimidate others, and whose animals go on to kill someone, could face the toughest penalties under proposals which follow changes to the Dangerous Dogs Act introduced last year.

Maximum prison sentences in England and Wales increased sharply last May – from two to 14 years in cases where a dog is allowed to fatally attack someone.

Under proposals from the Sentencing Council, people are being asked for their views on the factors that should be taken into account when punishing someone whose dog attacks and injures or kills a person.

At least 21 people, including 13 children, have died in England and Wales in the past 10 years from dog attacks.

Circumstances including a postal worker attacked on private property during their rounds or a guest injured at someone's house are accounted for under draft guidelines produced by the council.

Ashley: My lesbo cuddle stalker hell!

THE Jump babe Ashley Roberts has lifted the lid on her LESBO stalker hell.

The former Pussycat Dolls crooner (above) revealed one lady admirer took things a step too far after turning up at her front door and begging for a sexy "cuddle".

Ashley, 33, said: "She knocked on my door and wanted to come in for a kiss and cuddle."

"The moral of the story is never say where you are on Instagram. I don't get much fan mail these days - people contact me on Instagram and Twitter."

Ashley has also denied rumours she once dated Prince Harry.

She laughed: "The strangest thing I've ever read about myself is that I was dating Prince Harry."

"We were just in the same location at the same time."

Kendra back with 'tranny fan' hubby

JUNGLE babe Kendra Wilkinson has confessed: "My husband is NOT a tranny chaser!"

The I'm A Celebrity... Get Me Out Of Here! star separated from former footballer Hank Baskett, 32, last year after he was accused of cheating with a transgender model.

But Kendra, 29, now admits the couple are working through their issues - and says he NEVER had an affair.

The ex-Playboy bunny said: "We're back on track. I'm wearing my wedding ring - that's my message to the fans."

"Hank made some dumb decisions - we all do. He got caught up in a really bad situation."

"Now the world thinks he cheated on me. I don't believe he did. We're in therapy and we're on the road to rebuilding our relationship."

"Our time apart made us stronger. It helped clarify a lot of things in my mind."

STRAIGHT TALKING

FROM UKIP'S DEPUTY LEADER

Iceland make Cod Wars gains count

LAST week Iceland's Foreign Minister posted online that his country was to withdraw its application to be a member of the EU.

Gunnar Bragi Sveinsson's statement read: "Iceland's interests are better served outside the European Union." We all knew this day was coming.

Iceland applied to join the elite EU club in haste back in 2009 following the biggest financial disaster the country had ever seen.

The global recession caused the collapse of Iceland's three biggest banks, wreaking havoc as the Krona halved in value.

Iceland was essentially on the brink of bankruptcy. Their only motivation for joining the EU was so that they could ditch the Krona and use the Euro instead.

Membership

Soon after, bailouts to Greece (twice), Portugal, Ireland and Cyprus along with ongoing issues with Italy, Spain and France quickly turned public opinion against membership.

But it wasn't just the prospect of joining a failing, debt-burdened Euro currency that signalled the end to the talks to join the EU.

The Icelandic people have long held deep suspicions about the EU's intentions to the small North Atlantic island state. Iceland is fiercely proud of its fishing industry and fish exports are vital to the Icelandic economy.

And they are the third largest fish exporter in the world, behind only China and Norway.

In 2009, the EU had a trade deficit with Iceland to the tune of 879m Euro – and is desperate to turn this around.

Icelanders however are not stupid. They know when a deal smells rotten and any EU deal on membership will result in a significant loss of the fishing rights so desperately desired by fishermen from France, Portugal and Spain.

Iceland are so proud of their fishing industry that they were prepared to go to "war" with us over fishing rights in the 1950s and 1970s in what was known as the Cod Wars.

They took on the might of the Royal Navy – and won.

Politically, this rejection of EU membership ensures that the gains made in the Cod Wars were not for nothing.

We joined the European Union in 1973 and shamefully sacrificed our fishing grounds to the Common Fisheries Policy.

The UK was once a proud fishing nation, with towns like Grimsby, Fleetwood and Whitby employing men of all ages and home to trawlers bustling with catch.

Now these towns are just a shell of their former selves.

Misquote

If any Icelander was in doubt about their place in the world, a visit to one of our old fishing ports would quickly convince them that their place is not in the European Union.

Perhaps if we had stayed away from the EU in the 1970s, we too would still have a successful fishing industry.

To misquote the Icelandic Foreign Minister, Britain's interests are better served outside the European Union.

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM

THIS WEEK?

You can't get sh*tter than a quick fix filler

THE cheers were so loud and so shrill I feared the windows might shatter.

Groups of hitherto strangers gurned with delight as they mimicked the uplifting chimney sweep dance from Mary Poppins.

Cape were doffed and forelocks tugged as the celebrations rolled on well into the night.

The unbridled, unfettered joy was, frankly, impossible to ignore.

Mechanics aped the "Can't Get Quicker Than A Kwik Fit Fitter" song. Birds took spontaneously to the skies.

All around children bathed in a Ready Brek glow beamed rosy cheeks of happiness as their parents twirled merrily around their maypoles.

Queues stretched out at Ferrari and Rolls Royce dealerships from Land's End to John O'Groats.

Fine dining restaurants reluctantly turned hungry customers away.

And banks could only groan under the weight of huge incoming cash deposits.

You do remember Tuesday, don't you? It was truly a day to remember – a day when Great Britain basked in the collective glow of governmental benevolence.

Because who could fail to be anything other than ecstatic at the news that the minimum wage had risen 20p an hour?

Mugging

Never mind that petrol prices – mostly tax, of course – are slowly creeping up to backstreet mugging levels again.

Never mind that we are entering an election period never more uncertain of where we're all headed.

And never mind that catching a train in this country costs at least twice as much as in most other comparative European countries.

No, pipe down and instead quietly thank whichever god you choose for that extra £1.60 a day in your pocket.

It means you can now afford to splash out on an extra TWO tins of Heinz Baked Beans EVERY DAY down at Tesco – and still have 10p left over for other fancy goods, like gold bullion or unicorn eggs.

No doubt all the multi-millionaire chief executives of our largely bankrupt banks are wondering if it's time to ditch those thoroughly undeserved bonuses and opt for the bounty that is the minimum wage.

And watch as MPs rush to scrap plans to raise their own wages by 11% and remove their House of Commons food and drink subsidies for that £1.60 day-rise instead.

If you don't like bans, of course, the lucky swatches on the minimum wage could opt to spend this extra cash on half a pint of Stella at my local.

Or put it to one side and take 40p from the next day's "bonus" to put towards that other great tax on the poor, the National Lottery.

That's the problem with this country, you see. We just never know when we've got it so good...

Officer faces 10 'sexual misconduct' charges

A JURY has been sworn in to try a Staffordshire police officer accused of sexual misconduct offences – alleged to have occurred while he was on duty.

Adam Rushton (above) faces 10 counts of misconduct in a public office and two charges of obtaining personal data without proper permission while serving as a constable with Staffordshire Police.

The 37-year-old, of Newcastle-under-Lyme, was suspended from duty in early 2013 and was charged with the offences after an inquiry by his force and the Independent Police Complaints Commission.

He denies all the charges, which relate to seven women and are alleged to have occurred between 2006 and 2012.

Rushton, who was based in Longton, Stoke-on-Trent, was in court yesterday to see a jury of 10 men and two women sworn in. Prosecutor Duncan Bould will open the Crown's case against Rushton today (Wednesday).

Before being sworn in, the jurors, sitting at Birmingham Crown Court, were told the names of several potential witnesses in the case, who all come from the Stoke-on-Trent area.

Thousands of planets could support life

BILLIONS of stars in our galaxy, the Milky Way, have between one and three planets which could potentially support life, according to scientists.

Astronomers came to the conclusion after calculating the chances of planets orbiting in the "habitable zone" – the region just the right distance from a parent star to allow mild temperatures and watery oceans.

Danish researcher Steffen Kjaer Jacobsen, from the University of Copenhagen, said:

"The indications we have show a good share of the planets in the habitable zone will be solid planets where there might be liquid water and where life could exist."

The findings are based on data from the American space agency Nasa's Kepler space telescope, which has confirmed the existence of around 1,000 planets orbiting stars in the Milky Way.

GUILTY:
Crintula

A CONVICTED rapist set up a prostitution racket in his home after getting married – and invited call girl pals to join it.

Alexandru and Crintula Kis set up the £130-an-hour "escort service" within days of tying the knot.

The husband and wife team shared their home in Hulme, Manchester, with two prostitutes who flew in from Italy.

Mr Kis has previous convictions for rape and sexual assault in his native Romania.

The couple kitted out the property with sex toys and advertised their services online, setting up appointments by text.

Up to 15 customers a day responded to the adverts, with one of the women earning £3,000 in just two weeks, Manchester Crown Court heard.

The lucrative operation was only discovered by the police after one woman fell out with the couple.

The 26-year-old hooker ran into the street, flagged down a passing patrol car and told officers the address she worked from, prompting a raid on the flat.

When officers searched the property they found the married couple at home with one of the sex workers, aged 22.

PCs, mobile phones, and lingerie were found at the flat by police.

Earnings

Alexandru Kis, 34, and Crintula Kis, 21, admitted inciting prostitution.

Defending, Barry Grennan, said of Mr Kis's role in the ring: "This was not controlling – these were friends who had known one another who were assisting one another in the same business."

"One of the texts recovered indicates quite clearly that somebody was quite pleased to be earning £3,000 in two weeks. They were earning money, they were all friends together.

"The defendant married his wife in August, they rented accommodation, they were to share that accommodation."

"He had a car which he would use to ferry his wife and friends about and they would pay him for that, there's no doubt he would have gained from his wife's earnings."

"His wife knew one of the women in Italy and Germany before she met the defendant. He wasn't the controller in the sense they were working a team – the text messages disclose that cooperation between them."

"They encouraged their friends to come over because they were friends – not because they wanted control over them."

Judge Martin Rudland jailed Mr Kis for 12 months and gave Mrs Kis an eight-month sentence, suspended for two years with supervision and a programme requirement.

Mr Kis has already served the equivalent of a year on remand.

Sentencing the pair, the judge told them: "You involved yourselves in the unlawful exploitation of women who offered their sexual services to others, the proceeds of which led to you gaining financially."

"That is illegal in this country."

FLASHER COP'S SEX WITH THREE WOMEN ON DUTY

BAILED: PC Darren Heath

A POLICEMAN has admitted misconduct in a public office by engaging in sexual relationships with three women he met while on duty.

PC Darren Heath, 44, pleaded guilty to five counts of misconduct in a public office at Bristol Crown Court.

Three of the misconduct charges relate to sexual relationships Heath, of Taynton, Glos, had with three women between July 2002 and December 2013.

Heath, a police constable with Gloucestershire Police, also admitted misconduct by exposing himself to one of his victims between September 2012 and February 2013.

He pleaded guilty to "continually attending" the home of a woman under the guise of investigating an allegation her partner was harassing her in May 2012 to September 2012.

Judge Neil Ford QC adjourned the case and released Heath on bail until March 27, to give his victims the opportunity to be present when he is sentenced.

Heath had denied two counts of rape, a charge of theft and two counts of misconduct in a public office relating to failing to report an alleged rape and illegally accessing the police information system.

Sarah Regan, prosecuting, said: "We are content to accept the pleas that have been offered in this case.

"I will be asking that the remaining counts lie on file."

The first relationship took place between July 2002 and September 2002, while the second lasted from March 2008 to August 2008.

He repeatedly attended the home of a woman between May 2012 and September 2012. His third relationship took place between September 2012 and February 2013.

Ed Burgess, representing Heath, told the court: "It is not my application for a pre-sentence report. The defendant's approach to this matter is wholly realistic."

A spokesman for Gloucestershire Police previously said: "The charges relate to several cases in which Mr Heath is alleged to have made inappropriate advances or formed sexual relationships with vulnerable women he met through his duties."

"Gloucestershire Constabulary's Professional Standards Department began an investigation into a complaint against PC Heath in 2012 and he was suspended from all duties in early 2014."

Freed thief robs same shoe store

A SHOE store burglar has been arrested a day after being released from his 15 year prison term...for robbing the same shop! Christopher Miller, 41, was collared by cops back in 2000 after attempting to rob his local footwear emporium. He was later sentenced to a minimum of 15 years behind bars.

But just a day after his release in March 2014, he was caught trying to burgle the very same shop!

Prosecutors say Miller turned up at the Stride Rite store in Toms River, New Jersey, where he confronted the bemused shop assistant.

Miller managed to make off with £400 in cash and the workers mobile phone before being tracked down by police.

He was sentenced to another ten years in prison for second-degree robbery on Tuesday.

PUNCH-drunk footie star Wayne Rooney faces another knockout blow – after a TOPLESS model challenged him to a boxing match!

Midweek Sport babe Ella Mai loves grappling with blokes at her local boxing club – and has earned a reputation as a tough competitor.

And the 23-year-old, from Bedford, reckons she's a perfect match for the Manchester United captain – who was involved in a shock punch-up recently.

Rooney, 29, was apparently knocked out by pal and Stoke City defender Phil Bardsley, during a fight at a lads' night in.

A mutual friend filmed the incident on his phone, which shows the two sportsmen playfighting before things "got out of hand".

Rooney takes a punch and hits the floor, with the friend saying: "He made such a thud when he went down – people were scared he'd done some damage."

But the Liverpool-born striker made light of the video when he "fell over" celebrating his winning goal against Tottenham Hotspurs at Old Trafford on Sunday.

And we reckon Rooney will have more reasons to celebrate when he hears about Ella's proposal.

Because the saucy glamour girl, who boasts 30E boobs, says she'd loved to go a few rounds with Roo! She revealed: "I'm a good teacher. My only concern is Wayne might get distracted, if you know what I mean!"

VERONIKA ZEMANOVA

By NEIL GOODWIN
neil@sundaysport.co.uk

IT'S a good job this paper isn't in 3D, because Veronika Zemanova would have your eye out!

The Czech lovely sports stonking 30G boobs on her petite frame.

Born in Ceske budejovice but now living in London, the 39-year-old just loves to show off her voluptuous
curves.

And the brunette model and actress can get turned on by FAT
fellas.

She said:
"I prefer a fat man to a skinny
man."

"I like to have sex as often as I can. Once, I had sex in a plane - in the toilet and at our seat on the back row!"

BUSTY babe Kim Kardashian is at the centre of an X-rated new SEX TAPE scandal.

The American reality TV star famously appeared in a DIY nookie vid back in 2007 that catapulted her to superstardom.

And now the babe's hubby Kanye West has been forced to deny claims that yet ANOTHER homemade grot flick – showing the pair of them in red-hot action – had gone missing while primed for a global release.

Responding to suggestions the footage had been plundered from a recently-stolen laptop, a spokesman for West, 37, said: "His laptop has never been out of his possession."

"The laptop has not been hacked, and there has been no leak of personal data such as unreleased music, photographs, designs, videos or any other personal files."

Kim, 34, recently lifted the lid on her rampant libido, joking that she and Kanye end up shagging '500 times a day'.

TEXT A RED HOT OLDER WOMAN TODAY! SHE'S SO UP FOR IT!

EXPERIENCE THIS!

TAKE a look...take a long, lingering look at Alice, here. Alice is one of our older girls. We'd have loved to have shown you her face and told you a lot more about her but, well, Alice is a pillar of her local community and aside from that, her husband of 32 years would not approve of her swapping sexual texts with horny strangers half her age!

Anyway, have a good look at what you can see...pretty tidy for a woman in her sixth decade, eh?

OK, there's a few lines but her tits are still perky and her tummy flat. Alice looks after herself, regularly treating herself to expensive lingerie and ensuring that her grooming regime is from head to toe. She's favoured a Brazilian before it had a name!

So, why does she enjoy sexual text encounters with strangers like YOU? Well, says Alice, it's all about new experiences.

"When people meet me they probably think I'm just some old, married fuddy duddy. They would never guess that when I was 19 I ran off with a biker gang and, ahem, once ENJOYED three of them at the same time," she laughed.

"I love my husband but I still like to share my experiences and experience some new ones so, come on you horny buggers, get texting me and give me something to finger myself about!"

Alice is typical of the women you'll text here. From yummy mummies in their early 40s to proper grey-haired grannies in their 70s, we've got the perfect oldie for you!

You can specify a type on your first text but remember to put the trigger word first. Or you can add your postcode and we'll put you in touch with someone local.

If you've never tried sex texting before, now's your chance...and you're guaranteed to get messages from a real older horny woman.

WHY WE ASK FOR YOUR POSTCODE...

WE know that some of you guys are not bothered where a lady lives...as long as she is hot and horny and up for fun!

But many of you want to find a no-strings sex text partner who lives locally. By giving us the start of your postcode we can do this for you. We've got ladies from all over the UK so there's sure to be one living near you! You might have seen her down your street!

If you're not bothered then don't put your postcode in your first message. Easy!

SHE'S BRITAIN'S ONLY TOPLESS COLUMNIST

I'm sick of this Jezza joke!

AM I the only person fed up of hearing all about Jeremy Clarkson?

The world and his wife have been banging on about The Top Gear presenter getting suspended by the BBC for punching a producer. And it was all because he wasn't allowed a steak? How bloody ridiculous. But seriously, is it that big a deal? I am really bored of hearing about it.

Fuss

I just don't understand what all the fuss is about.

I have never watched Top Gear and it doesn't really interest me – in fact, I have no idea why it is so popular in the first place!

● I AM shooting some new content for my website this week – and I can't wait!

Ever since I re-launched my website I have had loads of really positive feedback.

And business is booming!

Each week I upload new clips and photographs. I have gone for a retro feel and everyone says it's just as good as it was back in the day.

This week I am doing a college girl shoot which I am really looking forward to.

I'll be shooting outdoors, too, so I am hoping for some good weather. I will be frolicking in a barn and going for a roll in some hay – which should be jolly good fun!

Anyone who wants to come and see the new improved website can join me at:

www.linseydawnmckenzie.co.uk

And what I really don't understand is why they can't just find another presenter?

You're not telling me he is the only person in the world who can host a car show?

Surely they could replace him with someone a bit younger and better-looking.

Jeremy Clarkson himself has described himself as an 'ageing dinosaur', so why not just make way for someone new?

And even Jezza admits he's bored with the story – which is hardly surprising because it has been all over the newspapers for a week.

For God's sake, there are more important things going on in the world than him and his silly 'fracas'.

Get your fking priorities right!

● NICOLE Scherzinger (left) has been posing for more sexy pictures this week – and I know exactly why!

It's pretty obvious she's trying to show her ex-boyfriend Lewis Hamilton he's mad to dump her!

The Formula One star must be kicking himself when he looks at her latest snaps – she's bloody gorgeous!

I am not the biggest fan, but I have to admit she has an amazing figure.

And she looks great showing it off!

BRAVE: Mum Katie and son Harvey on TV show

● KATIE Price has gone up AGAIN in my estimation – after I watched a special documentary she filmed with her disabled son, Harvey.

He is 12 years old now and suffers from a rare genetic disorder which means he is autistic, has limited vision and cannot walk very far.

Katie admitted it is sometimes hard caring for him and I thought the whole thing was really open and honest.

My son is autistic, too, and I know it can be challenging – but I wouldn't change it for the world.

A lot of people are really ignorant about autism, so I think it's fantastic that folk are finally talking about it.

Katie revealed that when Harvey was born, doctors said that he would never be able to perform certain tasks – which he can actually do now!

Help

It was so lovely to hear – because it really gives hope to other people who have been told similar things by medical professionals.

There have been a few things in the news recently about autistic children being violent and aggressive – but that isn't always the case.

People need to realise that every autistic child is different and there is no single 'type'.

Hopefully the more people talk about it, the more everyone will understand it better and we can help raise awareness.

The number of children being diagnosed in the UK alone is huge and the government needs to offer more support.

So well done to Katie and Harvey for being so brave and sharing their story!

● MOTHER'S Day was very difficult for me this year because it was the first one since my mum died last year.

Every day is hard, but Mother's Day was even worse – it was like a dagger in my heart.

But when you have kids of your own you just have to get on with it, and having my little boy really cheered me up.

I got a lovely card and coffee and breakfast in bed which was lovely.

MICHELLE: I'M READY TO GO NAKED!

SHOWBIZ EXCLUSIVE

SO MUCH TO SEE: Michelle Keegan

SOAP scorcher Michelle Keegan has dropped her biggest hint yet that she's gearing up to film her first ever NUDE scenes.

The brunette minx left Coronation Street in May last year when her character Tina McIntyre was killed off.

She is now in the BBC drama Ordinary Lies, which started last night, playing a car showroom receptionist who gets into trouble during a Caribbean holiday.

Excited

And Michelle, 27, says we could be seeing a LOT more of her soon. She revealed: "I'd strip off if a role required it. I wouldn't be embarrassed by that - it comes with the job."

It's not the first time Michelle has admitted her willingness to

By NEIL GOODWIN
neil@sundaysport.co.uk

get her kit off. In June last year she revealed: "I'm a huge Game of Thrones fan. I'd obviously love a role in that."

"I would consider getting naked and having sex scenes if the role was right."

"I'm auditioning again now. It's nerve-racking, but I'm getting more excited than anything."

Meanwhile, many fans reckon they've ALREADY seen Michelle's bouncing boobies.

In 2013 a snap appeared on her Instagram page appearing to show her TOPLESS in a bath.

While Michelle blamed the revealing image on pranking pals, her ex Max George clearly reckoned they were the real deal and wrote on Twitter: "Someone's made a tit of themselves!"

First penis transplant a success!

THE world's first penis transplant was carried out this week - and yes, it works!

Doctors in South Africa tested the procedure on a bloke who had been castrated three years ago.

Using a penis from a recently dead man, surgeons last week declared the operation a success.

The 21-year-old patient - who has not been named - was left devastated after a botched circumcision left him mutilated.

But now the unlucky fella has a fully-functioning cock - and claims he can pee normally and get an erection.

A source said: "The surgical team reported that during the nine-hour operation they were able to connect the donor penis to the patient despite the three-year interval since amputation."

"The surgeons noted that he developed an erection during a recent minor operative procedure that involved removing a urinary catheter."

"He is very happy and in all ways accepts the organ as his own."

NHS give free condoms at fetish party

PARTYGOERS were surprised to discover NHS-branded condoms being advertised at a fetish party.

The advert and free condoms were distributed at a metalworks in London hosting an alternative-fetish crossover event called 'Antichrist'.

Hundreds of NHS flyers showed a latex-clad woman next to the slogan "Into rubber? We've got loads."

By JOSEPH SCRIMSHIRE
joseph@sundaysport.co.uk

One attendee said: "The advert made me laugh when I first saw it - then I laughed even harder when I saw it was from the NHS. It's nice that they have a sense of humour."

The condoms were from the nearby NHS Freedoms shop, which promotes safe sex among the gay and fetish communities. An NHS spokesperson said: "The Freedoms Shop is a health promotion initiative that highlights the importance of safer sex by using condoms."

"An increasing number of people are visiting London club fetish nights and we provide an opportunity for people to look after their sexual health with online access to affordable protection."

IF you like the look of these pics, there's plenty more where they came from.

Because stunning pin-up Candice Collyer has set up her own modelling agency – and hopes scores of other sexy babes will follow in her sultry footsteps.

If the women at Candice's new venture Trash Models are anywhere near as fit as their boss, then all you boob-lovers out there have plenty to be excited about.

Motorbike-mad Candice, 25, told us: "I love glamour modelling – it's a great career and a wonderful industry."

Pert

"And I want to help girls enjoy as much success as I've been lucky to experience."

Candice, from Cheshunt, Herts, first shot to fame in 2008, with fans going gaga for her pert and all-natural 34D boobs.

She's since gone-on to become a petrolhead 'Grid Girl' at race tracks across the world, while also posing for Playboy.

HOLLY'S MINGE ON LIVE TV HELL

By ALICE WALKER
alice@sundaysport.co.uk

BUSTY telly babe Holly Willoughby has revealed her on-camera FANNY gaffe.

The This Morning presenter admits she was embarrassed talking about minge flaps on daytime TV.

But the 34-year-old mum-of-three – also a panellist on Celebrity Juice – soon got used to filthy clunge talk.

And she says it was co-host Phillip Schofield, 52, who helped get her past the difficult stage.

She said: "The first time I had to say 'vagina' on telly I was like, 'Oh, my God!'"

"Phil said, 'You'll get used to it, don't worry.'"

"I remember thinking 'I don't know whether I will.' But now I don't even think about it."

"We don't shy away because it helps people. The more you normalise things that are a bit taboo, the better that it is for everyone."

Knicker thief on the loose

POLICE are hunting for a 'bra bandit' who has stolen over £9,500 worth of Victoria's Secret underwear.

The mystery suspect has shoplifted from the same branch of the lingerie chain FIVE times in the last year.

There appears to be no clear CCTV footage to identify the underwear-loving criminal.

In the latest heist, which took place last Saturday, the unknown man stole a dozen bras valued at £350.

The crimes date back to March 2014 when the manager reported that £2,500 worth of clothing had gone missing from the shop in Wyoming, USA.

The thefts have happened on a regular basis since then – and have left cops baffled.

MIDWEEK Sport NUMBER 1 FOR TV BOOBS

Bad teacher!

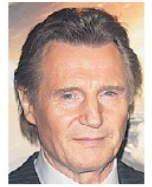

Bad Education, Wednesday, BBC3, 10.00pm

MOST blokes would have paid a lot more attention in class if they had a teacher like sizzling Sarah Solemani.

The 32-year-old, from Camden, north London, plays Jack Whitehall's love interest in BBC3 hit comedy Bad Education.

Unfortunately, she doesn't whip 'em out tonight – but Sarah did flash her lovely 32C norks in Sky Living's Love Matters.

Her character, Aphrodite Fry, proudly displays her boobs in the third episode. And it's not the first time she's bared all – because Sarah made her topless debut in 2005 Brit comedy Mrs Henderson Presents.

Liam: I'm getting too old for this!

HOLLYWOOD star Liam Neeson says he will give up action movies in two years – because he's too OLD!

The Irish-born actor has enjoyed a career resurgence thanks to the Taken films, but reckons he only has a couple of years left in him.

And the 62-year-old admits it may be time to stop the gun-wielding and police chases – especially if his knees start to go.

He said: "How long will I be doing this? Maybe two more years. If God spares me, and I'm healthy."

"But after that I'll stop the action I think."

"I get sent quite a few action-oriented scripts, which is great. I'm not knocking it. It's very flattering."

"But there is a limit, of course."

"If I feel audiences saying, 'Come on, he's 62, enough is enough', I'm very sensitive to that and if I pick up that vibe it will all stop. And I'll start playing dads or grandfathers."

"But I keep myself pretty fit, my knees are still great. And it's fun."

Res-ERECTION!

YOU'LL need the kiss of life when you clap eyes on these cracking telly babes!

Because TWO stars from hit U.S. show Resurrection have gone TOPLESS – and we're the only newspaper with the EXCLUSIVE pics.

Northern Irish stunna Michelle Fairley, 51, who plays Margaret Langston in the show, went completely NAKED in 1993 TV series Comics.

And Frances Fisher, 62, who plays Lucille Langston, displayed her well-preserved assets in 2007 blockbuster In the Valley of Elah.

CSI star's gay porn spoof hell

CSI: CYBER star James Van Der Beek has lifted the lid on his gay PORN secret!

The 38-year-old actor rose to fame on teen drama Dawson's Creek in the 1990s.

And he confessed that co-stars once stashed a butt-f*cking parody flick in his luggage - leading to a VERY awkward encounter!

James (above) said: "As a joke, somebody got me a VHS copy of Dawson's Creek."

"Of course I loved it!"

"With my sense of humour I thought, 'This is amazing! I can't wait to take this back to North Carolina and celebrate that I'd finally made it!'"

"But it was right after September 11th when I was flying, so I got randomly flagged."

"They start going through my bags and the video sitting right on top of my clothes."

"And it's not just a gay porn - it's a gay porn based on a show that I was actually in!"

Fact me!

MIND IF WE CRASH, TONIGHT?

CAR 3D DECO LIGHTS - £29.95
www.3dlightfx.co.uk
ONCE a year some numpty drives their car through a wall - leaving the back end hanging from the building like a poo that just won't break off.
 And while it looks hilarious to most people, the homeowners are not happy. Well, 3D Light FX have come up with a fun new way to keep everyone cheery and relaxed. Because their fantastic range of car lights make it look like a fancy motor has just crashed through your wall without actually causing any structural damage.
 The battery-powered devices come with energy efficient LED lights and an adhesive wall sticker.
 With classic, sports and muscle cars on offer, there's plenty for any petrolhead.

HARMAN KARDON ESQUIRE MINI SPEAKER - £129.99
www.harmanardon.co.uk
 SLIM seems to be the 'in' thing at the minute. So it makes sense that a speaker would eventually be released as the 'slimmest ever'. And that's what the Kardon Esquire Mini is. Made in Germany - so you know it's efficient - it is completely portable and wireless.
 It also has plenty of oomph. It provides orgasm-inducing sound from its dual, high-performance drivers and enhanced bass port design.
 There's even a built-in rechargeable battery which provides eight hours of playtime.
 Bluetooth enabled for full stereo streaming with your favourite devices, it doubles as a conference phone system with dual-microphone.
 But that isn't all. You can charge up your mobile through the speaker, thanks to a handy USB port.

FUNKY 'FONES!

Sennheiser URBANITE Headphones - £149.99
en-uk.sennheiser.com
SENNHEISER recently launched the new URBANITE headphones that they claim will 'make your ears feel loved'.
 Not only are this pair of cans ridiculously good to listen to, they'll sit snugly on your bonce with no irritation at all.
 They serve up massive bass while ensuring excellent clarity through the entire frequency range.
 The materials are designed for lasting passion. The premium stainless steel hinges and aluminium sliders last for years, not minutes.
 The URBANITE's outstanding flexibility allows it to bend over backwards for you again and again. Its supple, foldable design allows for pleasurable listening.
 And their 'rougher is better' design makes them able to withstand vigorous activity.

WHEN it comes to buying a bike, it's not just a case of buying the cheapest one possible.
 Yeah, you could nip down to your local bike shop and grab one for £100, but you'll be regretting it when the seat leaves your gook looking like an over-boiled ham.
 What's more important is value. And boy does the new Verenti Technique Claris tick those boxes.
 It's an entry level road bike that won't have you winning the Tour De France any time soon. But with an alloy frame, part-carbon bladed fork and a 16-speed Shimano transmission, you'll be steaming ahead of 90 per cent of the cycle lane.

 Keeping the Technique rolling is a pair of Jalco double walled 32h alloy rims laced up to a set of forged alloy hubs, all wrapped in a set of Kenda K tyres. Essentially, that means they spin well and have good grip.
 All in all it's a bloody excellent bike. Even if the paintjob is a bit basic.
 It's the James Milner of cycling. It isn't the most beautiful to watch in motion, but it's dependable and works like a bloody trooper.

ROBY
ALEX

IN KANDRA

By NEIL GOODWIN
neil@sundaysport.co.uk

THREE is the magic number for rampant Robyn Alexandra – because that's how many times she likes to BONK every single day!

And '69' is also an important set of digits for the busty 32GG beauty, as that refers to her FAVOURITE sex position.

The 23-year-old minx, from Manchester, explained: "My favourite position is 69. I like a lot of foreplay beforehand."

"It's fun because you can both enjoy it and it's a bit more intimate than other positions."

Quickies

"How many times do I like to have sex each day? Two or three is a good number."

"If it was up to me, I'd be doing it all day. But work and general life always gets in the way, doesn't it?"

"My perfect day would be to stay in bed, have my breakfast cooked for me, and watch films while having a few quickies along the way."

"Sex outdoors is good, too."

"Although sex on a beach wouldn't be too much fun in the UK – I don't fancy frostbite on my nipples!"

Low paid turn to sex for money

By JUSTIN DUNN
justin@sundaysport.co.uk

THREE-QUARTERS of all sex workers used to work in either health, education or the charitable sector.

They turned to offering sex for money because they could not make ends meet with their previous careers, according to a university study.

One worker who took part in the academic research - carried out by Leeds University and funded by the Wellcome Trust - said she could not keep up her mortgage repayments while earning £50 a day as an NHS care assistant.

The study of 240 sex workers - including 196 women, 28 men and 12 transgender people - focused on those who had chosen to sell sex.

Of those surveyed, 172 (71%) had previously worked in health, social care, education, childcare or charities.

Second most common former employment area was retail, with 81 people - 33.7% - having worked in the industry.

Unusual previous jobs included a road haulier manager, merchant navy caterer and life coach.

Peanuts

Ninety out of the 240 had an undergraduate degree, while 40 had a postgraduate degree.

Model Joanna Jensen, 24, from Carlisle, said she was not surprised lower paid workers were quitting to join the sex industry.

The 32C brunette babe said: "Some people working in the NHS, or on lower levels of salaries in education, are paid peanuts, which is a disgrace. There's no shame in working in the sex industry, but the real point is that we're not paying people who do vital jobs for society a proper wage."

GET down to yer nearest PRIVATE SHOP for the sex offer of the year!

It's one thing for stores to sell-off their older stock to make room for new releases but we've done a deal with Britain's biggest and best adult shopping chain to bring you ALL the top new release titles at a massive THIRD OFF the already low price.

Today we've got two of the latest TVX titles available exclusively to Sunday Sport readers at just £20 each! Remember, these are brand new R18 titles from the top UK studio that can sell for as much as £50 each.

R18 is the certification awarded to hardcore pornography in the UK and these titles are only available to over 18s from licensed sex shops like the Private Shops chain.

You can't buy genuine hardcore from mail order so you'll have to go to one of the shops. But as there's over 100 across the UK there should be one close to you.

Uniformed MILFs is 100% raw and uncensored scenes featuring filthy older babes in demure outfits that hide (for a while) a real wild side and love of hard c!

Gobble

See the s* splatter the faces and bodies of these hardcore honeys.

Naughty Little Knee Highs features some of the UK's freshest-faced stars. They may dress cute in long socks and pigtailed but once the c*s come out there's no stopping them as they gobble up everything that's thrown at them.

Both films were shot in the UK and star only home-grown talent. They are full-on hardcore

'If I'm feeling kinky, I'll go for my latex undies!'

ASPIRING actress Delia Rose dreams of making it big in Hollywood.

And the performing arts student is tailor-made for an erotic thriller – because she's not shy about getting her kit off!

The gorgeous blonde, 21, makes her topless debut only in the Midweek Sport today.

And the stunna, from Cambridge, lifted the lid on her innermost sex fantasies, describing how she's a lingerie addict who loves 'danger bonking'... and other WOMEN!

The 32E bombshell told us: "I really like girls and, even though I'm into men, I love mixing it up with ladies as well."

"There is just something so sexy about getting it on with another girl."

"I've got a high libido in general. I was in a relationship for a few years with a guy, and we literally did it anywhere and everywhere! Danger bonking, we'd call it."

"One of the best was on a train! But unfortunately we were just getting into it when the ticket collector came."

"We both had to pretend we weren't doing anything and somehow get dressed in three seconds flat."

The saucy minx is also a big fan of bondage and loves being in control in the sack – but also enjoys it when the fella takes charge.

She added: "Sometimes I like the man to be in control and I like being tied up. There is something very sexy about a dominant man."

And when it comes to X-rated outfits, she's got more saucy clothes than a movie wardrobe department.

She laughed: "I love wearing sexy outfits and I just love to dress up. One of my favourite ones to wear is a sexy college girl uniform.

"And I am totally addicted to buying underwear – I have a walk-in wardrobe which is totally filled with it all. I have so much."

"I also love a bit of latex. I have lace and silk stuff too."

"Sometimes I'm in the mood for being classy so I will get my silky undies out – but if I am feeling kinky then I'll get my latex undies on."

"I love high heels because they feel naughty and they make your legs look amazing."

"I also have several pairs of ridiculously high stilettos which are my sex shoes – I only wear them in the bedroom!"

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice - or experience - than our own Agony Angels! This week Kyla Cole has been reading your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Wife won't swing into action

Dear Kyla,

ME and the missus went to our first swingers' party a couple of weeks ago.

It was organised by a bloke from work and I was keen to go as his wife is fit.

My missus wasn't sure at first but then said she would try it.

When I got there I couldn't believe my eyes. It was packed with fit fanny aged in their 30s and 40s.

My wife was soon chatted up by a bloke, so I made a move on my pal's wife. She was busty, blonde and up for it.

I soon had her high-heels over my shoulders as I pounded into her. Just as I was about to explode two brunettes joined us in her bedroom. They put on a lezbo show and then I had them both.

After I'd finished I went back down to the party. On my way I looked into another bedroom and watched my wife being spit-roasted by two fellas.

My eyes were soon drawn to a tasty blonde who looked to be in her late 40s. After a little bit of chit-chat she led me to the living room and sucked me off while about 20 people watched.

I then had her doggy-style and up the arse. I found it such a turn-on being watched that when I came I just carried on.

My problem is that sex with my wife now seems boring in comparison and I crave the thrill of swinging, but she says it was just a one-off for her.

What should I do?

GH, London

Kyla says...

PERSUADE your wife to try it again, or go on your own!

Threesome in van was no flash in pan

Dear Kyla,

I'VE just got back from a really fantastic trip round Australia.

Me and my girlfriend took a camper van and exhausted ourselves in the back of it – and in all sorts of secluded outdoor locations.

One week we met a lovely girl who'd got her own camper van and was parked in the same site as us.

We invited her into our van and we cooked a meal and got stuck into a good few beers before stretching out on the cosy beds.

During the night it can get quite cold in the Aussie outback and we all found ourselves cuddling together.

My girl started kissing her new friend and then sneakily reaching out to tickle my cock.

She stripped the girl naked and encouraged me to feel her lovely arse. She then started slowly licking and touching the babe's nips while exposing her joyous fanny lips for my pleasure.

Letter of the day

I got stuck in to supping on her mince while my girl slowly fingered herself.

She asked me to mount her and, as I got hold from behind, my girl spread her new pal's legs and had a munch on her fanny.

Licked

When I was about to spunk, my girl must have sensed it. She told me to pull out and shoot my load all over the girl's boobs.

When I'd done it, she licked up every little bit!

It was a really amazing experience and the air reeked of sex smells. Pretty soon I was hard again and her pal gave me a blowjob as my girl used a dildo on herself and her horny friend.

The next day we found a quiet stream at the edge of the site to clean ourselves up and the girls were soon both naked.

The insatiable pair invited me in between them again and a tit-wank from a couple of eager pairs is something I'll never forget.

We moved on that day but we got her home address and number. It turns out she was a student from Sydney on her 'Walkabout'.

We're planning on inviting her over here to England.

What do you think?
GH, Kent

Kyla says...

DO IT! She sounds like the wizard of Oz in bed!

Dear Kyla,

A COUPLE of months ago hubby and I inherited an old property.

I am 33 and he is 38. I keep myself in shape and one of the workmen we employed to do up the house took a real shine to me.

We started flirting and one day he walked in on me wearing just my red thong.

He looked and then started kissing me, slipped off my thong and eased his cock into me. We've seen each other every day and I've never been so satisfied.

The only problem is that the house is now finished and I won't get the opportunity to see him. Should I pursue him?

JK, Essex

Kyla says...

NO, it'll never work.

Dear Kyla,

A FEW weeks ago my missus announced she was going out with a couple of friends to see some male strippers.

She dolled up in one of her sexiest outfits and told me not to bother waiting up.

Shortly after 2am I woke up and heard voices in the lounge. I crept downstairs and heard my wife and her two pals laughing and joking about their evening out.

I heard one woman giggle and saying to the wife: "And what was it like when you sucked off the blond guy?"

I can't confront her because since she went to the strip show she's been red-hot in the sack and can't get enough of me.

I'm confused. What should I do?

RC, Notts

Kyla says...

JUST enjoy what's on offer and try to put the other stuff out of your mind.

Dear Kyla,

I'M sorry to say that my wife is a total slut. I have caught her shagging loads of people in the past.

My mates, the boss from her work and lads doing jobs at the house – they've all had her. Apparently she's known as 'Anal Alice' in my local, such is her reputation for always being up for it.

We have three kids, but to be honest I'm not sure they are mine.

I have now met a lady at work who seems the total opposite to my wife.

We've been on a few dates and have just started having sex.

I'm really tempted to leave my wife and set up home with this woman.

What do you think?

JK, e-mail

Kyla says...

IF you feel you have no future with your wife then go for it.

FI STEVENS

FEISTY Fi Stevens is chef Paul Martin's favourite ever glamour model.

And he's gutted that she hasn't been topless in the paper for a while.

The culinary expert reckons her perky assets are some of the best in the business.

The 44-year-old, from Bournemouth, said: "Fi isn't that well known but she has always been my personal choice."

"She has a real natural look. She's the whole package – she's gorgeous!"

NIKE CLARK

MILKMAN Dave Jones, 48, from Plymouth, said: "Nike Clark is my all-time favourite glamour model."

"There is nothing fake about her – she is a naturally pretty girl with lovely boobs, a cracking figure and a winning smile!"

"I would love to meet her in the flesh and see if she is as gorgeous in real life!"

"I'd take her for a nice sit-down meal – no expense spared!"

"If I had a girl like that on my arm I'd be the luckiest man in Britain!"

MICHELLE THORNE

ESTATE agent Paul Arnold reckons that Michelle Thorne deserves a spot in this week's Show Me The Honey.

The 39-year-old, from Gateshead, said: "I remember the day Michelle was all over the papers – what happened?"

"I have been a fan of modelling work for more than 10 years."

"I really miss her massive boobs. So would you please mind printing a picture of her from back in the day?"

Well, here you go Paul – this one's for you!

I HOOKED up with my current fella after a one-night stand, so I can really relate to this survey.

It happens all the time, doesn't it? None of my mates go on traditional 'dates', you just meet guys at bars and clubs.

To be honest, the sex wasn't great that first night - he'd had a few too many drinks!

We laughed it off and we've been together ever since.

And, in case you're wondering, the sex is MUCH better now. Ha-ha!

Beth Simmonds says...

THIS doesn't appeal to me at all. I'm a good girl at heart and I definitely stick to the old 'three date rule' with guys.

If you sleep with a bloke on the first night, he's not going to respect you. He'll think, 'She probably does this with lots of guys.'

Lots of my friends have one-night stands and most of them end up depressed when the guys never call them back.

There's nothing wrong with a good snog, but my advice is to wait.

LOOKING for love? Then it's time for a one-night stand!

A new poll shows that casual sex can lead to a long-term relationship for almost two-thirds of Brits.

And the majority of couples say they started off as boozy one-night stands and later fell in love.

The survey, by adult shop Lovehoney, revealed that 57 per cent of women slept with their current partner on the first night they met.

It also suggests that British people are ignoring the 'rules' of dating and having sex earlier.

Because just 17 per cent of women and 11 per cent of blokes would think less of someone who shags on the first date.

Judged

And 61 per cent of women claim they regret NOT having sex with their boyfriend on the first date!

Richard Longhurst, co-owner of Lovehoney, said: "This survey proves that we have left behind those old-fashioned attitudes where people are judged for their sexual behaviour."

"The overwhelming majority of men and women will not think less of someone they slept with on the first night."

"One-night stands often lead to something a lot more serious for many couples, which is great too."

STAND

Sam Saint says...

LET'S just say, one-night stands can either be the start of something amazing – or a total disaster!

It's always a risk when you sleep with someone who you don't really know.

I met my ex-boyfriend at a nightclub. I thought he was gorgeous and we had amazing sex that night – or so I thought.

We dated for about six months, but it never lived up to the excitement of that first night.

I think I'll take things more slowly with the next guy I date.

St Albans, admits she prefers HARD sex over slow, boring romps every time.

The raunchy 30F beauty said: “Being naughty is more fun than being all soppy – and you usually get more pleasure from it.”

“I prefer a quick sex session. It's more exciting because they're usually spontaneous and that makes them even more fun.”

“I'm a bit of a dominatrix actually! I love dressing up and being in control – it really turns me on.”

KP confident of being hit for England again

KEVIN PIETERSEN is confident he can score more Test hundreds for England – if he is given the opportunity.

The controversial record-breaking batsman trails only captain Alastair Cook in the all-time list of England's most prolific Test centuries – having made 23, before he was sacked 13 months ago. The 34-year-old is hoping to resurrect his career with his adopted country after new England and Wales Cricket Board chairman Colin Graves hinted that a return to county cricket – and first-class form – may put him back in the reckoning after all.

Pietersen is therefore pursuing the possibility of securing a new contract in this country.

Surrey, who de-registered him six months ago after a summer in which he played only Twenty20 cricket, are the strong favourites to re-engage him.

Axed

But that depends on whether Pietersen can get a release from his arrangement to play in the Indian Premier League, which clashes with the start of the English domestic season.

Pietersen was axed after England's 2013/14 Ashes whitewash defeat, and ECB managing director Paul Downton described his 'disengagement' with his team-mates.

He struggled for form, and fitness, in the summer that followed – but rediscovered both for Melbourne Stars in the Big Bash this winter.

On his return to Australia, to commentate on the knockout stages of the World Cup, he made it clear in an interview that he believes he can excel again for England.

"I don't think my best days are behind me," said

CRICKET

Pietersen. "I thought I batted as well as I've ever batted in my career in Australia a few months ago."

"I think that's nonsense – I reckon I've still got quite a few Test hundreds in me."

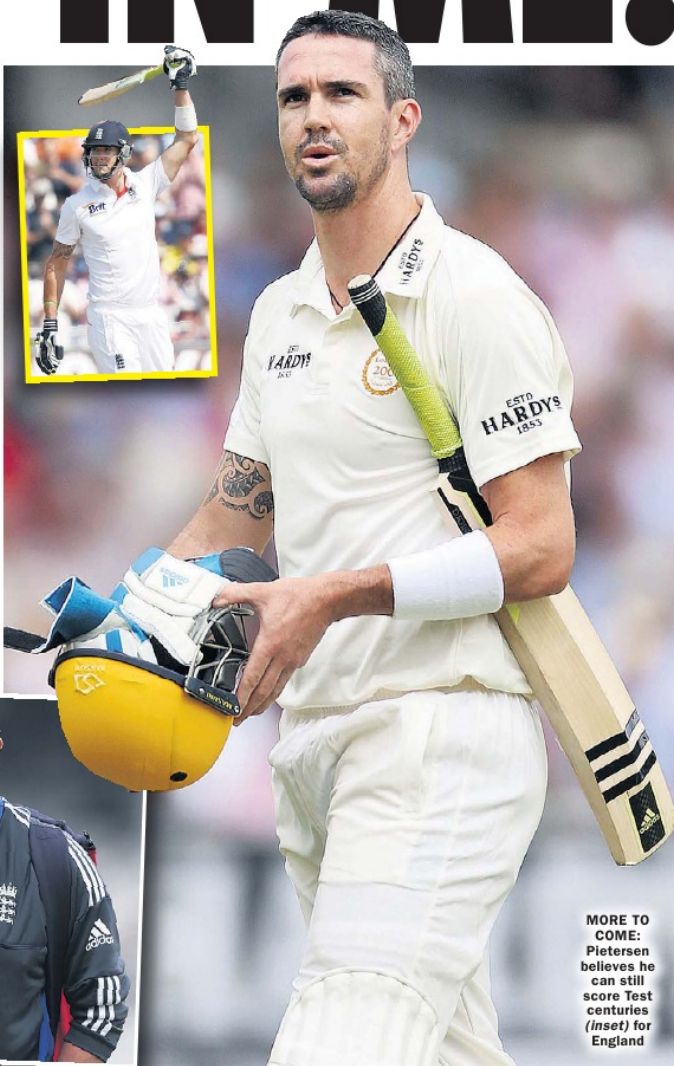

England appeared to have severed all ties with the South Africa-born batsman, until Graves recently indicated otherwise.

Pietersen's autobiography, in which he depicted a culture of bullying in the England dressing-room and was highly critical of former team-mates and management staff, seemed to merely confirm a permanent split.

Former England batting coach Graham Gooch, for one, is still warning against his return.

"I wouldn't bring Pietersen back," he said.

"Kevin Pietersen did some great things for England, make no mistake. But now it's time to move on."

FRUSTRATED: Mike Catt

Catt calling for England to be more ruthless

RUGBY UNION

MIKE CATT has demanded England become more ruthless after reflecting with frustration on the missed chances that could yet cost Stuart Lancaster's side the Six Nations title.

Scotland were dispatched 25-13 at Twickenham – but a mass of try-scoring opportunities were butchered in the penultimate round of a Championship that will almost certainly be decided by points difference.

Ireland and Wales are also in the hunt for the crown in Saturday's decisive final day.

And while England top the table by a points cushion of plus four, they know they can't afford to be similarly wasteful against France.

England attacking skills coach Catt said:

"Especially at international level, what the guys have to understand is that you only have two or three opportunities.

"For a ruthless side, we need to make sure we convert those into points.

"We all understand that, the players are more frustrated than anybody.

Errors

"There were some glaring, obvious opportunities out there that we didn't take and we have addressed those.

"It's all about us sticking to what we are doing, because it is working, and more about touching up on the finishing really.

"It's just making sure every player plays the play and not worrying about the next phase or the phase before.

"It's just making sure everyone is on song and everybody is playing in the moment.

"With that, errors are going to happen. They do in every international match.

"Every international team will look back on a tape and say, 'We should have done this or we should have done that'.

"But unfortunately, it doesn't happen like that.

"There are so many different areas why it didn't happen – the support, individual errors – so it's fixable.

"It's not really broken, it's just guys not implementing things."

GARY FEARS PARTY FLOP

GARY ANDERSON is hoping Kim Huybrechts doesn't wreck his Glasgow homecoming party on Thursday night.

The Scot plays on home soil for the first time since becoming world champion in January when he tackled the Belgian in the Premier League.

All 10,000 tickets have been snapped up – and the tartan idol insists he cannot let the pressure get to him.

"It's a heavy weight on my

shoulders," said Anderson (left), who defeated Adrian Lewis 7-1 in the league last week and won a Players Championship on Saturday.

"I'm quite a quiet guy. I like to be in the shadows, go up, play my darts and disappear.

"But with winning the World Championship it's been a bit hectic and I'm doing things that I'm not quite comfortable doing.

"There's extra pressure because you want to win in your home country and people don't realise how much is on your shoulders.

"I'll enjoy it a lot better if I can get the win, or at least a draw."

Anderson is expecting a tough challenge against Huybrechts.

He added: "I'm playing well, but if Kim plays well then I'm going to have a battle.

"He's down at the bottom of the table, but he's probably not got the results his form has deserved this season.

"He had a 107 average against Dave Chisnall and walked away beaten, which is hard to take.

"He's going to come good sooner or later, so it's going to be hard to call and the game will be nip and tuck."

DOG LEADS

George to Crash into bookies

THE pick of the midweek racing comes from Hove with open-race action galore.

Hold on to your hats I'm about to Nap a dog called Crasher George who in 17 starts is yet to score.

Have I gone mad?

I don't think so, I fancy him to run a huge race and I will tell you why.

Those 17 starts have come at Crayford, a track in my opinion that clearly does not bring out the best in him.

He can't win an A6 at Crayford but I'm tipping him to win an open race at Hove, the country's premier track.

You've heard of horses for courses well it's dogs for tracks — in 16 of his 17 starts he's been crowded, in the other he missed his break.

The dog's been crying out for a galloping track, well he's finally got his wish. I could end up looking rather daft but I'm confident he will do the business for us at a big price.

Roses Risk looks drawn for a big run in the 475m contest.

She's been a bit unlucky of late and due a change of fortune, she can make her own luck by being away-and-gone here.

ROMFORD TONIGHT

It's all graded tonight and it looks very competitive.

Racing manager Peter O'Dowd is a proper shrewd and he sets us some tricky puzzles.

I've had a go at solving them and Bolshoi Booze jumped out at me.

He's in an A2 and I think he is well up to the task of taking a race at this level, he was only beaten in a photo in open-race company back in January and is a multiple A1 winner.

He's only raced once in A2 and he duly obliged I'm expecting him to make it two-from-two at this level tonight.

NAP - T4 Bolshoi Booze 22.11

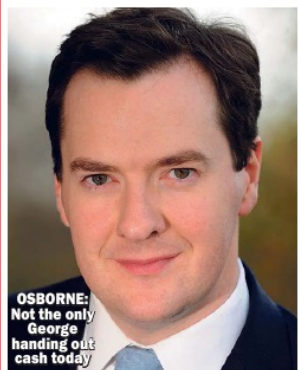

MONMORE THURSDAY

It's an all graded card but one I'm quite excited about.

Bog Brae goes in the last race of the night but I've a feeling it's going to be worth the wait.

He ran with huge credit in the recent Ladbrokes Spring Festival and dropping back in to graded company tonight should see the Paul Sallis star emerge victorious.

BASHER

21/2 Barca groaner for misfiring City

BARCELONA v MAN CITY, WED, 7.45PM, SKY SP5

IT'S going to be a real Barca battle for poor Man City in the Nou Camp tonight.

Even at prices as big as 7/1, there is little to no point in backing the English champions to come away with the win they desperately need.

The final score of 2-1 in the first leg at Eastlands fails to tell anything like the story of the match.

Barcelona were superior to City, with Luis Suarez and Lionel Messi in particular giving the home defence nightmares.

Suarez took his goals beautifully and only Messi incredibly missing a penalty late on has given the Blues any chance whatsoever.

So looking at the odds, it is difficult to find a decent angle given that the home side are such overwhelming favourites.

The bookies are taking no chances at all in chalking up 4/9 about the home win. That's with Betfred and is relatively generous given that some other layers have the same outcome at 4/11.

If you think Pellegrini's boys can cause a bit of a scare and come away with a draw, there is plenty of 4/1 on offer in the high street.

It would help if City could keep 11 men on the pitch as they have had a man sent off in each of their three recent clashes with Barca.

Gael Clichy kept up that unwanted tradition in the first leg and he'll be a big miss.

Form coming into the game could be better, with the English champs suffering a shocking run on the road, with just one win in their past five games.

That suggests there is something very wrong either with the tactics or the personnel on the pitch — and it looks like both given the insipid display at Burnley at the weekend.

Maybe they saw the claret in the home side's shirts and panicked — imagine how the hapless Demichelis will do against Messi if he couldn't handle George Boyd and Danny Ings.

So looking for a betting angle is tricky.

In the correct score market, it's easy to see the home side putting three past City, with the visitors getting one back. So 3-1 to Barcelona looks the wisest bet in this market at 21/2 with BetVictor which is best value.

If you fancy a real hammering, the 4-0 and 4-1 home win are both on offer at 17/1 with the same firm.

Looking to the goalscorer betting, which one of Barcelona's galaxy of talent will hit the back of the net first?

Given his prowess in the first leg and love of making English sides look stupid, it has to be Suarez at 9/2 with either Coral or Ladbrokes.

The more obvious choice of Messi is biggest at 10/3 with William Hill.

If you really do believe in fairytales, you can back City to make it through to the semi-final by any method at 10/1, while you can beat the building society by backing Barcelona at 1/14 with Coral to qualify.

That's a slightly better than 7% return on your money for 90 minutes' work.

ADVICE: BARCELONA TO WIN 3-1 AT 21/2; LUIS SUAREZ TO SCORE FIRST AT 9/2

Hughes to get Rich in title bid

HORSE RACING

THERE has been a lot of grumbling this week about changes to the Flat jockeys' championship.

In a nutshell, the title race will now run from Guineas weekend in May through to British Champions Day at Ascot in October.

That's despite the actual Turf Flat season running from March until November.

It seems to be another case of the people running racing having a totally different idea about how things should be done to the rest of the human race!

Either way, the bookies fancy Richard Hughes to win it.

NEW 2015 UK Flat Jockeys Championship (from 2nd May to 17th October): 4-7 Richard Hughes, 2-1 Ryan Moore, 10-1 William Buick, 14-1 Graham Lee, 20-1 James Doyle, 33-1 Adam Kirby, 40-1 Andrea Atzeni, 50-1 Paul Hanagan, 66-1 Jamie Spencer.

THURSDAY: DYNAMO KIEV v EVERTON

EVERTON were sluggish in the first leg against Dynamo Kiev but can get the job done by winning the away leg (Thursday, 6pm, ITV4).

The Toffees may have turned a corner by winning their first home league game of 2015 against Newcastle at the weekend.

Romelu Lukaku woke from his slumber to hit the target against the Toon and his power will be important in the Ukraine tomorrow.

The bookies are taking something of a chance by offering the Everton win at 14/5, which looks a decent price.

After all, Roberto Martinez's men had most of the play at Goodison and they can focus on this game more now they have eased their Premier League relegation worries. Lukaku can open the scoring at a tasty 7/1 with most firms.

BACK IN FORM: Lukaku

FOSTER FACING MONTH OUT

WEST BROM have been rocked with the news Ben Foster has been ruled out for at least a month with a knee injury.

The keeper limped off during Saturday's 1-0 win over Stoke and scans have revealed damaged cartilage.

Foster (right) was expected to be included in the England squad for the Euro 2016 qualifier against Lithuania and friendly with Italy this month but will now miss out.

Baggies boss Tony Pulis moaned: "It's rotten news for Ben because he's been so consistent for us."

"He kept seven clean sheets in 10 games, but we have a very able man to step forward in Boaz Myhill, who has performed very well whenever he's come into the team.

By FRANK McCAULEY

"We've got the international break coming up, which I hope will give our medical team the chance to work on Ben's rehab."

Myhill came in for Foster on Saturday, and 20-year-old rookie Jack Rose will provide back-up to the former Wales international.

Myhill will begin his run of games at Man City on Saturday, with the Baggies currently eight points above the drop zone.

Brunt accepts ban

CHRIS BRUNT has been suspended for one match and fined £8,000 after accepting an FA misconduct charge.

The 30-year-old had requested a personal hearing after being charged with using abusive or insulting words or behaviour towards a match official in or around the tunnel after the Baggies' 2-0 FA Cup defeat to Aston Villa this month.

Brunt is banned with immediate effect and will miss Saturday's Premier League trip to Manchester City.

He had faced a possible two-game ban, but Albion's director of football administration, Richard Garlick, said: "I think Chris's disciplinary record, which has seen him issued with one red card in more than 400 appearances, was rightly noted."

MOUSA VOWS TO KEEP ATTACKING

MOUSA DEMBELE insists Spurs shouldn't change their attacking mindset, despite their Old Trafford shocker.

Tottenham's chances of a top-four finish were dealt a hammer blow on Sunday as they were ripped apart by Manchester United in a 3-0 defeat.

The display led onlookers to suggest – not for the first time – that Mauricio Pochettino's attack-minded philosophy should be reined in.

But midfielder man Dembele (pictured) has defended his manager's tactics.

"We've played some games against the top teams where we played unbelievable attacking football," the Belgian international said.

By JOHNNY BELL

"We don't have to change because we are capable of beating the big teams."

"We didn't do it at Old Trafford, but we are still playing well."

We've shown this season what we can do against the big sides.

"We don't need to think our chance of a top-four finish is gone, otherwise we could become demotivated."

"We'll try to win all our remaining games and see where that takes us."

"We have a good mentality so I think we can bounce back."

KILLER INSTINCT: Bryan Robson (inset) reckons Rooney is at his most dangerous up front

MIG UP FOR FIGHT

By FRANK McCAULEY

SIMON MIGNOLET reckons Liverpool are showing the fighting spirit necessary to make the Champions League as they head into Sunday's seismic Anfield showdown with Manchester United.

Brendan Rodgers' in-form Reds survived a first-half fright at Swansea on Monday night before emerging 1-0 winners to cut the gap on fourth-placed United to just two points. Mignolet (left) had to produce fine stops to deny Bafetimbi Gomis and Gylfi Sigurdsson in a first half Swansea dominated.

And the keeper boomed: "We showed the character and resilience that you need if you're going to be successful."

"This was our sixth successive clean sheet away from home and we have to keep that going until the end of the season. You keep clean sheets as a team. Everyone is playing together, doing their job. We are willing to fight for each other."

United's visit could prove crucial for Liverpool's hopes of a top-four finish, but Mignolet insists they have to focus solely on themselves, not their rivals.

He added: "It's a big one coming up, of course, but we don't have to make too much of it."

"We just have to look at our own performances, there's no point in looking at the other teams."

ROONEY JUST CHAMPION FOR UNITED

Robbo: Top four hopes rest on striker

By PETE OLIVER

MANCHESTER UNITED legend Bryan Robson is sure Wayne Rooney will score the goals to seal a Champions League spot – if he stays up front.

Rooney took his total for the season to 13 as he helped shoot down top-four rivals Tottenham in an impressive 3-0 win at Old Trafford on Sunday.

That made it five goals in six games since he was restored to an attacking position, while Robin van Persie nurses an ankle injury and flop Radamel Falcao warms the bench.

And Robson – who scored 99 goals in 461 games for the Red Devils between 1981 and 1994 – thinks the current United skipper needs to stay there.

"I like to see Wayne Rooney up front," he said. "When you have Robin van Persie fit, there's no reason why Wayne can't be effective in midfield."

"But what I like about Wayne being back up there is that he can always create a goal and he can always score a goal. That's where he's most dangerous."

"When he goes into midfield he forgets about scoring and wants to link passes together. He hits great passes but he forgets

BENCH-WARMER:
Radamel Falcao

that from midfield you can score a goal as well.

"That's why I like to see him up front."

Robson has also praised Rooney's growing maturity after being handed the captain's armband.

Hilarious

And the former England skipper was also happy to see Rooney's "knockout" celebration after he scored against Tottenham.

Robson added: "I thought it was hilarious! When he did it I couldn't stop laughing. Someone said to me before the game, 'Do you think it will affect Wayne's performance, all this publicity?'

"He will have thought about it and wondered if he would get bad publicity or would it just blow away."

"But as soon as the game kicked off, I said he'll be concentrating on the game and nothing else."

"In a way I was wrong because he celebrated like that, but his performance was there for all to see."

Daryl Janmaat will move to centre-back

Jan's the man to get Toon out of a hole

By JOHN WARDLE

FULL-BACK Daryl Janmaat looks set to be drafted in as an emergency centre-half this weekend with Newcastle United in defensive disarray.

The Dutchman seems certain to be asked to partner Mike Williamson, the only specialist central defender available, for Arsenal's visit to St James' Park due to a spate of injuries and suspensions to key players.

Paul Dummett and Steven Taylor's seasons have been ended by injury, while Fabricio Colocini is suspended for the next three games after his reckless red card against Everton on Sunday.

Janmaat filled in the middle for the last half-hour at Goodison and isn't thrilled about the prospect of staying there long-term, but he insists he'll take one for the team.

Janmaat said: "I will play in the middle of the defence if I am asked to do so, although it isn't really my position."

Rough

"It's not as though I have ambitions to stay there, but we all know what the situation is at the moment, so if I have to play there, I will."

Janmaat knows Toon are in for a rough end to the season, but he's sure his team-mates will pull together.

He added: "We know we have some difficult games coming up now and our squad is getting smaller, so we have to make sure we are giving absolutely everything in the matches."

"We don't have too many players left now, but that is the situation and the transfer window is closed."

"We have to do it with this group, and we have to stay positive."

WE'VE GOT A HULL OF A CHANCE

HULL boss Steve Bruce is confident the Tigers are winning their survival scrap.

Bruce's boys were beginning to look doomed as they slumped into the drop zone at the end of January.

But since a 3-0 home drubbing by Newcastle, they have lost just once in six games to move up to 15th in the table.

Bruce (above), whose side welcome leaders Chelsea on Sunday, said: "We're doing all we can to stay in this league."

"Over the last six weeks we've been more like ourselves again."

"We've defended fantastically well and we've got a base and a platform that I'm used to seeing."

"We've got a few players coming back as well, which will add to the competition for places."

"We're in a far healthier place than we were six weeks ago and we've given ourselves some life."

VOKES OF CONFIDENCE!

By SEAN RAFTER

SAM VOKES is ready to help Burnley to Premier League safety after getting over his injury nightmare.

The Clarets striker spent nine months out following knee surgery before being eased back into action at the end of December.

Vokes (left) finally started his first top-flight game in Burnley's shock 1-0 win over Manchester City last Saturday night, which gave their survival hopes a massive boost.

And the Wales international, 25, is now looking to resume his prolific partnership with Danny Ings which brought the pair 47 goals in last season's promotion triumph.

Vokes said: "Obviously we did well together last year. Now I'm back from injury it's great to get back alongside Danny. It would be great to get our partnership going again."

"We've got nine games left and if we can reignite that form then it'll be great for us."

"There have been a lot of stepping stones in building for my return."

"That's what I've been doing in my rehab – building towards this."

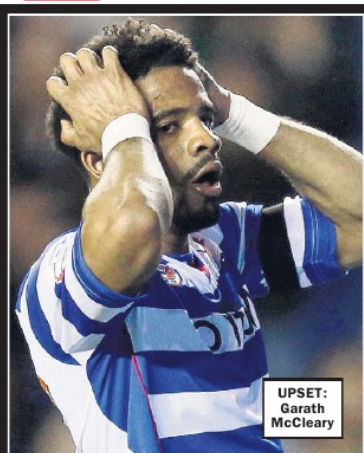

"It's great to get back. This is a chance to prove myself at this level." Veteran defender

Michael Duff has been handed a new contract at Turf Moor.

The 37-year-old, who joined the Clarets in 2004, has agreed a 12-month deal and will have a testimonial next season.

Duff proved he's not staying just for sentiment after helping Sean Dyche's men keep a clean sheet against City to move Burnley to within a point of escaping the bottom three.

Man nicked after McCleary racial abuse complaint

By TREVOR WILLIAMS

A MAN has been arrested for the alleged racial abuse of Reading winger Garath McCleary during their 3-0 FA Cup quarter-final win over Bradford.

The Jamaica winger, 27, complained to a linesman shortly before half-time. He was about to take a corner when the incident happened in front of the Bradford fans at the Madejski Stadium.

Police confirmed a 36-year-old man from Bradford was arrested. He has been bailed until April 16 pending further inquiries.

McCleary created Reading's opening goal and scored the second as the Royals raced into a two-goal lead inside 10 minutes before sealing the win that sets up a Wembley semi-final with Arsenal.

Hal Robson-Kanu and Jamie Mackie also scored for the Royals, while Bradford had Filipe Morais sent off.

After the game, Reading manager Steve Clarke said he was aware his player was "upset by something".

A club statement read: "An incident was reported to the match officials just before half-time, who in turn told Reading staff. A man was then arrested and ejected during the half-time interval."

Invaded

The FA will contact Reading and Bradford to seek their observations following the pitch invasion after Monday's replay.

Reading fans ran onto the pitch after the final whistle.

A supporter also invaded the playing surface during the game and the FA will speak to both clubs to collect their views.

It comes with FA and West Midlands Police investigations still ongoing into crowd trouble at Aston Villa's FA Cup quarter-final win over West Brom earlier this month.

Villa fans invaded the pitch during and after their 2-0 win, while seats were thrown from sections of the Baggies support into the home end.

NEW DEAL ON TABLE FOR BEG

STOKE are offering £12million-rated goalkeeper Asmir Begovic a new deal to fend off interest from Tottenham and Inter Milan.

The 27-year-old Bosnian (above) still has 15 months left on his Britannia Stadium contract.

But chairman Peter Coates wants to shut the door on a move.

He said: "We will be working hard to convince Asmir to sign a new contract before the end of this season."

"He's got a year left after this summer and we have to be realistic, we don't want to get into a situation where his value diminishes if he doesn't sign."

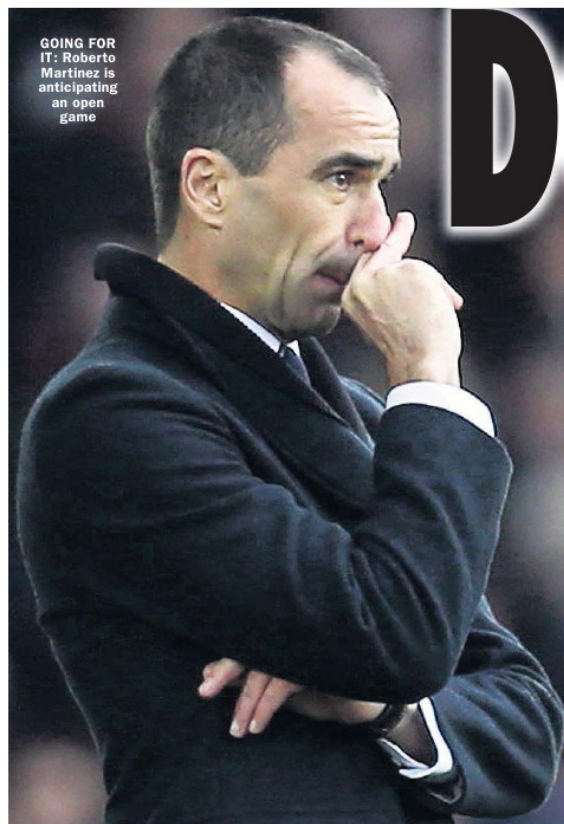

"There are no problems between Asmir and the club and we are obviously keen to extend his contract here with us."

Dynamo Kiev (1) v Everton (2)

Thursday, 6pm - Live on ITV4

GARETH BARRY says Everton must deal with an intimidating atmosphere - and score - in Kiev to get through to the Europa League quarter-finals.

Midfield veteran Barry was part of a talented Manchester City side that was knocked out of the competition by Dynamo when they lost 2-0 in Kiev to crash out 2-1 on aggregate.

Everton's players are guaranteed a hostile atmosphere from the Ukrainian supporters - but Barry is urging his team-mates to block that out.

"You never know how football is going to go but, for me, we have got to go there and score at least one goal," said the 34-year-old.

Balanced

"There will be a really tough atmosphere. We have seen signs of their quality and even though we won the first leg and put in a performance, we knew the tie wasn't dead and is finely balanced."

"We are going to have to be on top of our game and we need to use our experience, because I am certainly expecting a really tough game."

"The atmosphere and the style Dynamo will have means we are going to have to defend well as a team and be together as a team, give 100 per cent and take our chances when they come because Kiev are going to be really up for it in front of their fans."

"But we need to relax and try to play our game, because the atmosphere can make players do stuff they wouldn't normally do."

"When you play against teams like Kiev, they are teams that are based on winning," said Martinez.

"But that also means you can open games up. You can create chances the same way as them and they are entertaining games."

"Kiev are a team that people don't know a lot about, but for them to be unbeaten in their league tells you the level they have got this season.

"They will play Champions League next season, I think."

"The level of this Europa League has been very strong."

Crisis

Everton are boosted by the return of Belgian winger Kevin Mirallas, who missed the 3-0 win over Newcastle with a knock.

Dynamo boss Sergei

Rebrov believes the political crisis in Ukraine means the opportunity to beat a side like Everton can help lift spirits in the region.

"It's a difficult time for our country," said Rebrov.

"I'm always telling the players that football for some people is a brief breath of fresh air."

"I hope that they understand that and I hope the situation will get better."

TONIGHT IN THE CHAMPIONSHIP

Ross takes aim at club that made him

Ell of a cult hero

Fulham v Leeds

Tonight, Kick-off 8pm

ROSS MCCORMACK is out to shoot down his old club Leeds in a bid to fire Fulham to safety.

The Scot earned cult hero status during four years at Elland Road, with 58 goals in 158 games before an £11million move to Craven Cottage last summer.

The 28-year-old has continued to find the net regularly – but that hasn't stopped Kit Symons' side being dragged into another fight for survival as they bid to avoid back-to-back relegations.

The 12-goal striker is wanted by promotion-chasing Derby, but Symons insists his prize asset is going nowhere.

The Fulham boss said: "There will always be interest in Ross, he's a very good player."

"But he won't be going anywhere and we certainly won't be letting him go out on loan."

"He works his socks off and that's one of the reasons why our fans love him. He's a quality player but he'll give you that workrate as well, which is a great combination."

Scott Wootton hopes to put the shackles on McCormack as mid-table Leeds bid for a sixth clean sheet in nine games.

Defender Wootton said: "It's a relentless league and the matches keep coming thick and fast."

"We'll go there full of confidence. Keeping back-to-back clean sheets in this league is no mean feat."

Pressure? No, it's a privilege to work here, says Dougie

Nottingham Forest v Rotherham

Tonight, Kick-off 7.45pm

FOREST chief Dougie Freedman insists he is loving the challenge of a late play-off bid.

The Scot has only signed a contract until the end of the season but is masterminding an unlikely push for the top six.

Forest have won six out of Freedman's nine games and all four at the City Ground.

And he is enjoying managing under little expectation.

Freedman said: "It's a great time to be a manager, I love these times. People say it is pressure, but it's not."

"Managing Forest is a privilege. I love to work here – and long may it continue."

"We hope to get closer to those play-off positions. If we play a certain way and the crowd see commitment, they will get behind us."

Fans want to see commitment and playing for the jersey. I don't want individuals, it is a team game."

"They will not play unless they show commitment. I want to see players who give their all – fans pay good money so they will see a good level of entertainment and desire right to the end."

Rotherham defender Kirk Broadfoot reckons a trip to Forest is the ideal game after losing 2-1 to relegation rivals Wigan.

He said: "After a disappointing result it's important to have a game to forget."

"There's no time to dwell on it and get disappointed."

"It will be a tough game, but it's one we're looking forward to."

NO-NONSENSE BOSS: Dick Advocaat

I'M HAIR TO KEEP CATS IN THE PREM

By NIAL HICKMAN

DICK ADVOCAT won't be tearing his hair out if he fails to keep Sunderland in the Premier League this season, but he insists he's up to the challenge.

The Dutchman – who had an Elton John-style hair weave implanted 20 years ago – was getting acquainted with his new players yesterday after taking over from Gus Poyet.

The 67-year-old has been given the reins at the Stadium of Light for the remainder of the season and is charged with halting Sunderland's slide, with just one point separating them from the drop zone and nine matches remaining.

"Sunderland is a big club and I am very much looking forward to the challenge ahead," he said.

"We must now concentrate on Saturday as a priority. I can't wait to get started."

A trip to West Ham lies in wait for Advocaat as Sunderland look for a much-needed win which would be only their second in 13 top-flight matches.

Avoiding relegation will be a big ask, but the Dutchman looks as well placed as any to do so, given he has more than 30 years of management experience.

Advocaat has twice coached Holland, as well as the national teams of the United Arab Emirates, South Korea, Belgium, Russia and most recently Serbia.

He has won league titles in his homeland with PSV Eindhoven, at Russian club Zenit St Petersburg and with Rangers, securing the league and cup double twice during his reign between 1998 and 2002.

This is Advocaat's first role in English football, yet Sunderland chairman Ellis Short (above) is confident he has the right man.

"Dick has an incredible CV and vast experience of managing at the very highest level," he said.

"We have one aim only now – to climb the table. Everyone is fully focused on the task ahead."

The appointment did not come as too much of a surprise, with his name being mentioned almost before Poyet was through the door.

Advocaat will be assisted by first-team coach Zeljko Petrovic, his assistant with Serbia, as well as former Swansea and England U20 goalkeeping coach Adrian Tucker.

Former Fulham manager Paul Bracewell, now Sunderland's academy coach, will also support the Dutchman for the final nine games of the season.

DEMICHEILIS BACKING

MARTIN DEMICHEILIS is backing Manchester City's miracle men to pull off another shock and knock Barcelona out of the Champions League.

City are long odds to get into the quarter-finals for the first time after losing 2-1 to the Catalan kings in the first leg of their last-16 tie at the Etihad Stadium.

City came back from the dead to get through to the knockout stages, beating Bayern Munich and Roma in their last two games to sneak through their group.

Manuel Pellegrini's men also beat the German giants in Munich last season – and Demichelis reckons there's no reason why they can't conjure up a famous night in the Nou Camp to make the quarter-finals.

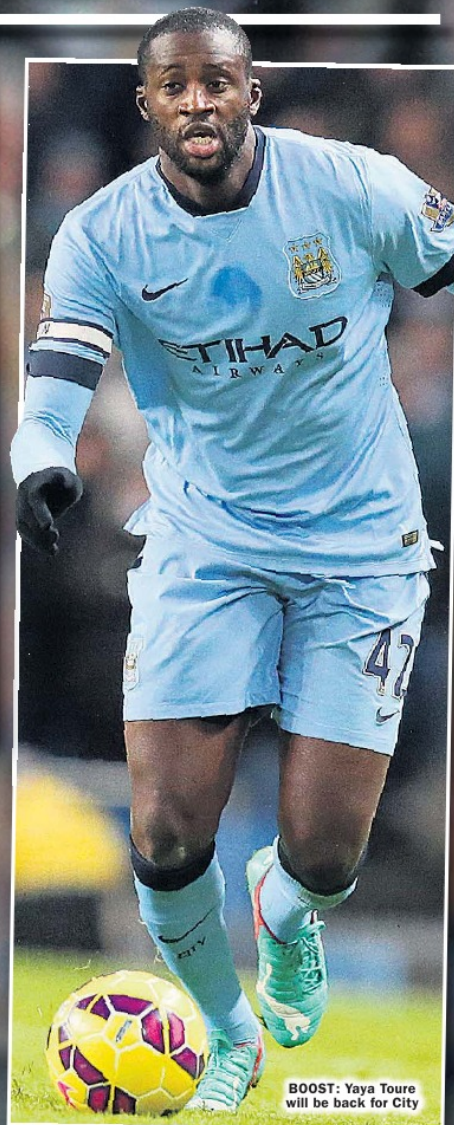

The City defender said: "Of course we know it's going to be difficult, but we also know we are capable of doing it. We don't have anything to lose and it will be a very open game because we need to score two goals.

"This team has shown in the past that they can overcome difficulties.

"We won in Rome and in Munich, so why not?"

While Barcelona are in stunning form, City can barely buy a win as the defence of their Premier League title has crumbled.

Defeat at relegation-threatened Burnley last Saturday night left them six points behind leaders Chelsea and on a run of three wins in their last 11 games in all competitions.

That has put massive pressure on Pellegrini, but Sergio Aguero's goal and a late penalty save by Joe Hart from Lionel Messi in the first leg has given City a glimmer of hope that all may not be lost.

Mentality

Demichelis insisted: "This isn't the worst time to play them if we can do what we did in the second half of the first leg. I think after half-time we were the better team. We created some good chances until the sending-off – and we didn't concede the third goal.

"We will go there and try to replicate our performance from the second half.

"It's better to go there 2-1 down rather than 3-1. That save of Joe's has given us that extra hope for the second leg."

City will be without suspended defender Gael Clichy following his red card in the first leg, but the return to the side of former Barcelona midfielder Yaya Toure following a three-match European ban will add to their hopes of avoiding going out to Barca for the second season in a row.

Toure said: "We didn't win then, but I think this year is different.

"We have a different team, a different squad and a different mentality.

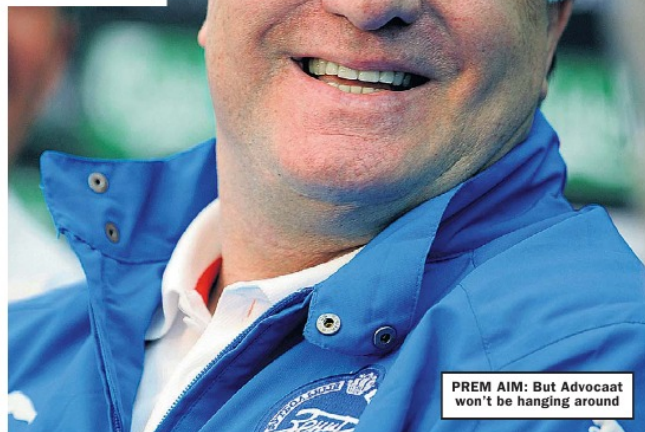

"It's always difficult to play Barca when you have to force it because you need to score, but in football anything can happen."

DICK'S QUICK IN-AND-OUT!

PREM AIM: But Advocaat won't be hanging around

New Black Cats boss has already been ordered to quit – by his WIFE

By NIALL HICKMAN

DICK ADVOCAT will DUMP new club Sunderland in two months – because his WIFE has ordered him back home to Holland!

Dutch sports journalist Arno Vermeulen, a friend of brow-beaten Advocaat, says the new Black Cats boss is under strict orders to leave England as soon as the season is over, whether or not he keeps his new club up.

Advocaat earned the nickname of the "Little General" for his fierce management style.

But it is his missus who calls the shots at home, with the 67-year-old Dutchman clearly under her clogged heel.

Vermeulen said: "Dick's wife will not allow him to work abroad for a long time – he has to be at home."

"She will only allow him to work for two months in England for Sunderland."

Thrashing

"He is capable of doing the job in two months because he's technically very good. He has the qualities to put a lot of energy into the team. He could be very successful."

Advocaat yesterday took over from sacked Gus Poyet (below) at the Stadium of Light with the sole aim of keeping the Black Cats in the top flight.

Saturday's 4-0 thrashing at home to Aston Villa was the last straw for Weariders owner Ellis Short, who had no option but to call time on Poyet's reign.

Advocaat got straight down to business, taking training with the first team yesterday in preparation for this weekend's clash at West Ham.

I'm too big for Southampton!

KOEMAN SHOCKS FANS WITH AMAZING BOAST

RONALD KOEMAN has stunned Southampton by admitting he's ready to move on to a bigger club. The Dutchman arrived on the south coast less than a year ago after Mauricio Pochettino left for Tottenham.

He has worked wonders at St Mary's, taking a team many tipped for a relegation scrap to the brink of the Champions League places.

But his latest comments are sure to anger fans after he claimed he had now proved himself good enough to coach one of the biggest clubs in Europe.

When asked about being linked to the Continent's elite, Koeman said: "I see myself as ready."

"I've been a coach for a while now and I've been at a few different clubs."

"I have experience and this is an important detail if you are going to be a good coach."

"At the moment I am only thinking about Southampton because I have two more years on my contract after this season."
